Stillwater has provided research and design services on more than 150 facilities in Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia. Services included civil infrastructure design for ground up construction and design management services associated with re-branding recently acquired units. Stillwater coordinated four regional renovation tours with Swifty Serve staff and specific vendors and contractors. The purpose of the site tours was to identify branding and renovation scopes associated with each facility and each vendor. Approximately 150 sites were visited over a two month period. Stillwater also provided design for petroleum related system components and also managed sites through permitting and construction. Renovation and new construction projects were included.
